Art Unit: 1657

1. Receipt is acknowledged of a preliminary amendment and a certified copy of foreign priority filed August 02, 2007 and a prior art information disclosure statement filed August 19, 2005.

2. Claims 1-11 are present in this for this Application which is a 371 OF PCT/EP/04/00859 filed January 30, 2004 which claims benefit to AUSTRIA A 285/2003 filed February 27, 2003.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

Wherein the method is characterized that the use is made of the microorganism Rhodococcus erythropolis NCIMB 11540 in the form of:

- a. ground cells, immobilized cells, lyophilized cells, or resting cells;
- b. crude or purified enzymes or immobilized crude or purified enzymes;
- c. recombinant enzymes or immobilized recombinant enzymes;
- d. other-please specify.

The species are independent or distinct because

Each of the above is considered to be distinct from each other, which require a different search for each of (a), (b) or (c) since the microorganism is classified separately from that of the enzyme(s) and the recombinant enzymes have their own classification from that of non-recombinant enzymes.

Art Unit: 1657

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim one is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of a species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. Applicant should be aware of possible rejection of double patenting in view of Serial Number 11/222020.

Also, Examiner has only found four references to patents relating to the claimed microorganism, all related to the instant specification.

In another search of non-patent literature, it was noted the following:

"Rhodococcus sp. R312 is commercially available (CBS 717.73). Rhodococcus erythropolis NCIMB 11540 was obtained from DSM Research, The Netherlands."

Art Unit: 1657

Based on the information retrieved, it appears that Applicant may be required to deposit the microorganism to be enabling for one of ordinary skilled in the art to make and use the instant inventions absent a showing that the claimed species is readily available.

6. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Examiner Lilling whose telephone number is 571-272-0918 and Fax Number is 571-273-8300, or SPE Jon Weber whose telephone number is 571-272-0925.
